

At the Theatres.

At the Academy—The Bennett-Moulton Stock Company, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and Wednesday matinee in "Outcasts of Society."

At the Bijou—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, special matinee Monday, "The Brixton Burglary," Thursday, Friday and Saturday, "David Garrick."

The Bennett-Moulton will close the Academy season with four performances this week, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday matinee and night.

This excellent stock company has been giving good plays at 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents with all seats at matinees for 25 cents. It is regretted by many that it will close its engagement so soon, but the weather is now too hot for the audiences in the Academy, or any city theatre for that matter.

"Outcasts of Society," which will close the house for the summer, is a melodrama of great power. The story is a simple but strong one. A reckless and wayward young man with a good heart and good ideals is disinherited by his father through the machinations of a scoundrel of a cousin.

The villain not only keeps the hero from his father and his inheritance, but also gets into his power the father of the heroine and demands her hand as his price.

In the end the rascally cousin is undone and the heroine becomes the wife of the wronged young man.

Of the playing of this melodrama the Norfolk Landmark said:

"Miss Delaney, as the sweetheart of the young outcast, acted with rare discretion and understanding the character assigned her. This young woman is a thorough artist and is possessed of all the requisite qualities which make for success in her chosen profession. She has a graceful stage presence, an expressive face and a beautifully modulated voice, which is under perfect control at all times. In addition to all this she is an actress of intelligence and refinement and makes of the characters which she presents real, living, breathing women and not mere stage puppets."

"Chas. McGrath acted the hero in his usual manly and straightforward manner and was all that a hero should be. "Mr. Dimock was refreshing as the villainous nephew, not finding it necessary to resort to the usual methods employed by the portrayers of such characters, such as continual cigarette smoking, etc."

The minor characters were all well taken care of and the result was an evenly-balanced performance and one which would do credit to many a higher priced organization.

The scenery, stage appointments and costumes were in keeping with the performance and added much to the effectiveness of the stage pictures."

Bijou's Double Bill.

For the week of May 30th, the Bijou management announces the return of Mr. Walter Edwards and his company. As this is the last week of the season the management have decided to make it a gala one, and Mr. Edwards will produce two plays, "The Brixton Burglary" and "David Garrick," in both of which plays Mr. Edwards has been particularly successful in many of the principal cities. Beginning on Monday afternoon at a special matinee, the company will produce the "Brixton Burglary" with additional performance Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening and Tuesday matinee. The "Brixton Burglary" will present Mr. Edwards and his company in an altogether different light from any in which they have heretofore appeared. The play is of a lighter nature of the farcical order, particularly adapted to summer entertainment. It was produced at the Herald Square Theatre, New York, where it had a continuous run of several months with such prominent people as Mr. Holland, Mr. Ferguson and Miss Proctor Otis in the cast, and the belief is entertained that the play will lose none of its interest in the hands of Mr. Edwards' excellent players.

In addition to Mr. Edwards, Mr. Sylvester, Miss Lovering, Miss Lander and the other members of the company who have already established themselves as favorites, several new engagements have been made with the view to making the company even better than before. Notably among these is that of Miss Grace Henderson, who has but recently foreclosed her engagement with Mr. Frohman's "Bird in the Cage" Company. Miss Henderson has long had the reputation of being one of the comedienne, a beautiful woman, and a handsome dress.

WILL PRESENT

PAIN'S LAST DAYS OF POMPEII

IN THE

West-End Electric Park
Thursday, Friday and Saturday
Evenings,
June 2, 3 and 4.

$1,000 BURNED NIGHTLY.

Awe Inspiring Volcano and Earthquakes depict awful destruction of Pompeii. The Dainty Golden Pony Ballet, Toman Youth Ballet, Amazing Fire Ballet. Five acres of interesting scenery. And people in stirring scenes.

EXCITING HIPPODROME CONTESTS. BIG PAGEANTS, SPECIALTIES. Absolutely the most thrilling open-air spectacle human eyes ever beheld or human brain conceived.

MISS LEIGH DE LACY.

With the Bennett-Moulton Company at the Academy this week.

Miss Jane Wheatley, another stage beauty, has been engaged for the juvenile parts. Miss Wheatley, although a very young woman, has had a wide range and experience. Mr. Richard Cochran, an actor of wide experience, will also make his first appearance with the company. Mr. Cochran was formerly a member of the Edwards' company, and played his present part with great success. Miss Lovering will have a part singularly different from anything in which she has yet been seen. The part is that of a London Slavery, almost grotesque in make-up and conception. It will be next to impossible to realize that the dainty little Jane Eyre can transform herself so completely as to embody the eccentric Hetimie Perkin. Mr. Sylvester will have in James the valet, a part equally as good as that in which he made such a decided hit last week. All in all, the company should materially add to the most excellent reputation they have already established for themselves.

Westhampton Park.
The young folks are not suffering three nights of the week this summer for the dancing pavilion at Westhampton, for the dancing pavilion at Westhampton is now open Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening and Tuesday matinee. The "Brixton Burglary" will present Mr. Edwards and his company in an altogether different light from any in which they have heretofore appeared. The play is of a lighter nature of the farcical order, particularly adapted to summer entertainment. It was produced at the Herald Square Theatre, New York, where it had a continuous run of several months with such prominent people as Mr. Holland, Mr. Ferguson and Miss Proctor Otis in the cast, and the belief is entertained that the play will lose none of its interest in the hands of Mr. Edwards' excellent players.

In addition to Mr. Edwards, Mr. Sylvester, Miss Lovering, Miss Lander and the other members of the company who have already established themselves as favorites, several new engagements have been made with the view to making the company even better than before. Notably among these is that of Miss Grace Henderson, who has but recently foreclosed her engagement with Mr. Frohman's "Bird in the Cage" Company. Miss Henderson has long had the reputation of being one of the comedienne, a beautiful woman, and a handsome dress.

Forest Hill is the afternoon mecca of the trolley-riders, the cold and clear springs, the fine sweep of greenward of the hillsides, the cool and comfortable of the gulches and canons and the brook fishing, etc., being attractive to people who want to leave the hot city for a few hours.

The parlor car "Virginia," handsome and commodious, may be had by the hour on application to Sup't. Buchanan. Service is given on all lines.

Beach Park Preparing.
Beach Park, at West Point, is undergoing a thorough renovation for the formal opening Saturday evening, June 11. Many novel amusement features are being added, and those attractions which proved so popular last season are being thoroughly overhauled. A mammoth Scenic Waterway, similar to that in West End Electric Park, is nearing completion. The dance hall has been made considerably larger, and the hotel has been repainted and furnished throughout and additional facilities have been added to make for a much larger attendance this season. The "sea food dinners," which proved such an attractive feature last year will be a feature of the Beach Park Hotel this season.

LST DAYS OF POMPEII.
Spectacular Production the Last Three Days This Week.

The many amusement features already in operation in West End Electric Park serve well to entertain the immense crowds that flock to the park every "afternoon and evening. The aspiring paragon of this season has inspired Manager Hartzell with the desire to add more attractions to the park, and negotiations are now under way for several new features which he hopes to install in the near future.

With the formal opening of the park Thursday evening with Pain's unequalled pyrotechnical display a new era in summer amusement features is offered by the Virginia Amusement Company, and neither care nor expense will be spared to make the West End Electric Park among the best amusement resorts in the country.

Particular care and attention is given to ladies and children and for this purpose hundreds of comfortable rocking chairs are scattered around in cool and shady places for these patrons.

No objectionable characters of any kind will be permitted in the park and a large corps of special police and watchmen in uniform are on hand to preserve the strictest order and see that the thorough enjoyment of all patrons is in no way interfered with.

That the efforts of Manager Hartzell in behalf of his patrons is being highly appreciated is shown by the steadily increasing number of patrons.

Concerning the Fall of Pompeii Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, June 2, 3, and 4, Mr. Hartzell says:

The climax of managerial daring and ingenuity would seem to have been reached in the stupendous production of Pain's thrilling pyrotechnic display "Last Days of Pompeii," which will be seen in this city on June 2, 3, and 4. Heretofore, on account of the tremendous expense of production, these famous displays have been confined to only the largest and the most important fairs and expositions. For several seasons Mr. Henry J. Pain and his general manager, H. B. Thearle, have been seeking to perfect a plan whereby the exhibition could be transported in its entirety and produced in the smaller cities, the same as the largest circuses; but "The Last Days of Pompeii" is so much greater an affair than even the largest circuses and the vastness of the necessary paraphernalia and the great number of people required to give an adequate production of the spectacle was simply appalling, and although a tremendous attendance was certain to be drawn, the expense involved was too great to warrant the risk. Within the past year, however, they have successfully evolved a scheme and perfected plans for a portable exhibition on a most elaborate scale. Since last November a small army of pyrotechnists, electricians, carpenters, scenic artists, costumers, etc., have been at work in Pain's workshops, at Parkville, L. I., and on May 1st the task was completed for the road. The productions given are on quite as extensive a scale in every respect as are seen at Manhattan Beach, New York, or any of the largest cities. Nearly three hundred people participate in Pompeii's stirring scenes, four acres of massive scenery represents the ancient Roman city, and an immense amphitheatre, with a capacity of ten thousand people, is provided for its spectators.

IN THE GYMKHANA RACE.

This portrait is a snap-shot of Mr. J. T. Anderson taken during the Gymkhana race at the Deep Run Hunt Club yesterday a week ago. The conditions of the race required each rider to ride about three hundred yards, dismount, pick up a dress suit case, take out a different coat and put it on, put old one in dress suit case and return to spot from which case was taken, dismount, take up and open umbrella and return to starting point. Mr. Anderson who finished well up in front is shown on the last lap, with umbrella open.

TO REMOVE NET WORK

Passenger and Power Company Proposes to Reduce Its Track Mileage on Church Hill.

An important movement on the part of the Passenger and Power Company will be made before the Street Committee on Tuesday afternoon.

The company will bring to a head a plan long contemplated for the removal of most of the tracks of the Clay Street line on Church Hill, and a combination of cars, with a quick schedule, on the two lines in that section of the city.

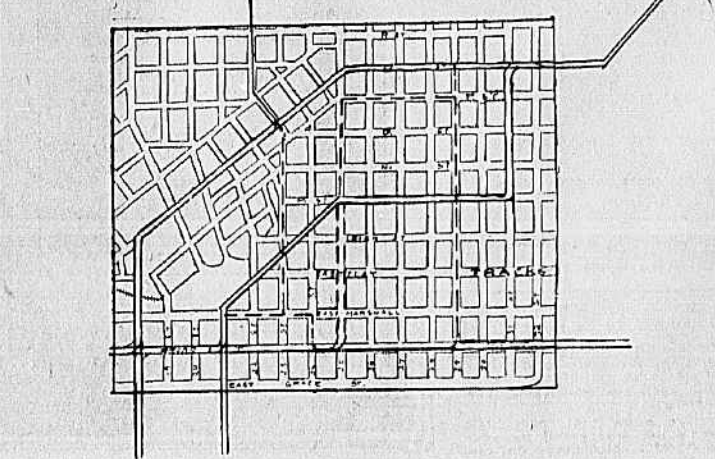

The idea of the company is to cut out a portion of the system, which is looked upon as unnecessary to the convenience of the citizens, and to give better schedules and connections than can be given under the present plan, of a network of tracks in that residential section.

In short, the company proposes to remove the Clay Street line tracks from North Twenty-first and Marshall Streets, around the Twenty-fourth Street loop, and out Twenty-ninth Street to the Seven Pines terminal at P Street; also the P and Twenty-fifth Streets' loop to M and Twenty-fifth.

At that point an intersection is proposed with the Traction line out M Street to Thirtieth, thence to the Venable Street line to Oakwood. From Twenty-fifth and M Streets the Clay Street route to Church Hill Avenue is to be double tracked, the cars going east to enter the track at Twenty-first and Marshall.

It is also proposed to cut out the north Twenty-third Street line from Marshall to Venable and to connect with the Fairmount cars at Twenty-third and Venable.

With this net-work of tracks cut out, the company proposes to give a symmetrical line of service, running from Twenty-third and Broad out Twenty-first to Marshall, thence out Church Hill Avenue

Blood Saturated Night Shirt

A true case of wonderful cure of Eczema by

D. D. D.

For five years I have been a severe sufferer from Eczema on my neck and shoulder. It itched so much I could not refrain from scratching the sore continually, but even scratched it so as to tear the skin and cause it to bleed—was not nearly so painful as the itching. Many a time have I had to change my night shirt three or four times in one night, the blood from the sore having literally saturated it, caused from my scratching the sore to get relief. During these five years I have tried almost every remedy recommended for Eczema, and looked with several prominent physicians, but got no relief. Your D. D. D. Remedy was very highly recommended to me so I decided to give it a thorough trial. The first application stopped all itching and I enjoyed my first night of unbroken sleep in five years. I continued the treatment for two months and have been completely cured. I recommend it to all suffering from this annoying disease and feel very grateful to you for doing so much for me.

PAUL L. WALD, Marion, Ind., May 1, 1902.

We vouch for above

The facts in this case of Mr. Paul L. Wald, have been laid before me in all details with proofs that are unmistakable. Every particular in the history of this remarkable cure more than bears out the above statement of the case. From the proofs submitted, we feel that this announcement comes far from doing full justice to the remarkable merit of a medicine which accomplishes results so important to humanity.

Since we have handled the preparation in this city, a great number of people have used it for various skin affections. Its results have been invariably satisfactory. We are therefore willing to guarantee any purchaser full return of his $1.00, if satisfactory results are not experienced from a trial of a bottle in any case of skin affection.

We not only sell at retail, but also supply druggists at wholesale prices. D. D. D. costs but $1.00 a bottle, and is guaranteed to cure or money refunded.
